This listing of movement disorder specialists, compiled by Abbott, is a reference tool for locating certain doctors. All the doctors listed have experience with Abbott/St. Jude Medical™ neurostimulation products, and none have paid or received a fee to be listed there. This database may not include all physicians that use or have used Abbott/St. Jude Medical™ products. Similarly, this database does not include all physicians who do deep brain stimulation (DBS). Abbott does not verify or monitor the license, credentials or qualifications of any physician listed in the database and is not responsible for the medical advice of the physicians included in this database. The decision whether, and when, to contact a physician is yours alone. When choosing a physician, we encourage you to weigh various factors, such as level of experience, educational background, personal rapport and local proximity. By accessing and using the DBS Specialist Locator database, you agree that you understand the information set forth above.
